

Adobe® Flash® Catalyst® CS5.5

Create expressive, interactive content without writing code

Adobe Flash Catalyst CS5.5 is also available as a component of these Adobe Creative Suite® 5.5 editions:

- Design Premium
- Web Premium
- Production Premium
- Master Collection

Transform static artwork from Adobe Photoshop®, Illustrator®, and Fireworks® software into fully interactive user experiences without writing code. Prototype user interfaces for Flex based websites and applications, and collaborate intelligently with developers who use Adobe Flash Builder™ software.

Top reasons to upgrade to Adobe Flash Catalyst CS5.5

NEW Full designer-developer workflow—Work with confidence on shared Flex based projects with a new bidirectional workflow that allows designers to collaborate with developers who use Adobe Flash Builder 4.5.

NEW Resizable applications and components—Visually design and preview the position and scaling of objects when designing interfaces and applications that adjust to fit various screen sizes or resolutions.

NEW Enhanced timelines and animations—Craft precise, expressive transitions and effects with greater control and less effort. Animate filter effects and font sizes, and easily apply customizations across effects or objects.

NEW Common Library panel—Quickly design wireframes and evolve developer-ready interface concepts using native Spark components and placeholder graphics.

NEW Custom skinnable components—Craft the visual appearance, or skin, of developer-built custom components without the need to understand the underlying code or logic.

NEW Improved interactions—Define user interactions more efficiently with the ability to globally target any component within your project, and specify double-click actions as interactions.

NEW User-requested enhancements—Align and distribute objects with a new Align panel, lock aspect ratio when manipulating objects, easily name components for better collaboration with developers, and more.
