Planning and implementation

Easy Access, Communication, and Mobility

Communication is at the heart of all businesses and the right messaging platform is more than just an e-mail application – it involves every facet of your business from wireless to voicemail and from applications to customer interactions.

Technology advancements are constantly changing and improving how we communicate. With a unified communications (UC) solution, your business leverages all of the benefits of today's powerful communication devices and applications. Microsoft® Exchange is the de facto standard in messaging. A proven platform to use as your core communication tool, it is the cornerstone of a UC solution for your business. The Zones Advanced Solutions Group will help design and deploy your Microsoft Exchange solution to maximize its benefits to you and ensure high availability.

Microsoft Exchange Deployment Services

Zones provides services for planning, designing, upgrading, migrating, and implementing your Exchange infrastructure. Our Microsoft trained and certified professionals are experienced in delivering advanced technology solutions and will help you through the sometimes intimidating and confusing process of upgrades and migrations.

- Mobility and flexible access – Users get more work done by having anywhere access to e-mail, voicemail, instant messages and other communications from virtually any device or application, be it their desktop, Web browser, or smartphone.
- Easier administration and decreased dependence on the help desk – With the improved Exchange Management Console, the Exchange Management Shell and the Exchange Control Panel, you can empower users and managers with granular rights to many daily tasks – without giving them full administrative rights – to reduce the workload of your IT staff and help desk.
- Protection and compliance – Exchange offers integrated e-mail archiving and retention required by industry best practices and regulations. This includes the ability to do multi-mailbox searches for sensitive data. You can also replace personal storage folders (.pst files) with Online Archive Mailboxes.
- Reduced risk of malware and spam – E-mail intelligence detects and blocks many of the spam and malware e-mails that are time- and resource-wasting, and potentially harmful to systems.
